Hungarian Aid Drive Launched

Campus Campaign Begun To Bring Heroic Students To BYU

by Sally Arnold

AT LEAST 12,000 Hungarian students are languishing in refugee camps in Austria; stranded without money, clothing, medicine and the other necessities of life.

They have one magnificent commodity—heroism—the kind of heroism that kept them fighting against ridiculous odds until they could fight no longer and fled for their lives.

A campaign has been launched to bring several of these Hungarian student refugees to Brigham Young University.

A MEETING WAS CALLED Wednesday evening of campus leaders from every area of student government and several campus organizations. A concrete plan was slated to have been worked out at that time.

To carry out such a project it will be necessary to raise money for transportation, clothing, tuition, housing and books. Sponsors and guarantees of jobs for the students are also needed.

These students are the ones the Communist party depended upon as the backbone of Hungarian Comunism. Their rebellion proved that communism is reviled and detested by the very people who have been cradled in it from birth.

AMERICAN COLLEGES throughout the country are pledging money and support to students. Several other schools have begun drives to bring students to their campuses.

The United States government has ordered much of its red-tape slashed to provide visas for these people. Americans are opening their hearts, hands and purses to the freedom-loving people of the country that is slowly being bled to death.

BYU has sent $150 for relief. The Campus Chest Fund Drive has pledged 28 percent of its total intake for Hungarian relief.

WE THINK BYU can do much more.

We think the children of once-oppressed peoples; of Mormon pioneers, of immigrants who fled to America seeking freedom and new way of life can dig deep and help at least two of these persons pick up the threads of their violently interrupted lives.

BYU students and organizations are being called upon to help by providing money, books, jobs and clothing.

ASSISTANCE is asked for students who were willing to forfeit an education to fight the battle of freedom for the entire world.

Students, faculty, Provo townspeople and organizations are urged to contact the Daily Universe immediately with pledges of money or material goods.

These students were fighting for a cause which we, luckily, will possibly never have to worry about. With BYU's help they may never have to worry about it again.

3 Units Win Trophies For Donations On First Day Of BYU Yule Drive

CHRISTMAS Drive got underway on the Brigham Young University campus Tuesday as three social units delivered boxes to the drive pickup point in the basement of the Social Hall.

Val Norn, O. S. Trovata, and Val Hyric were on hand with their 100 per cent contributions as the doors opened at 12 noon.

This marks the third year Val Norn and Val Hyric have been first in with their Christmas donations.

ALL THREE units will receive a small trophy for their "first in" effort, it was disclosed by AWS-AMS officials.

The drive, sponsored annually by the Associated Men and Women Students, features Christmas trees in the Science Building lobby with a light hanging on the trees for each organization on campus.

Each year campus organizations strive to have their light turned on first.

Purpose of the drive is to provide a Christmas for people in the Utah Valley area who otherwise would not have one. Last year over 100 boxes for nearly 500 children were made possible by BYU students.

DRIVE chairmen state this year's quota largest in history of the drive on the BYU campus. Downtown Provo organizations are also helping in other phases of the overall Christmas program in the Utah Valley area.

More contributions by campus organizations are expected to be turned in Thursday and Friday as members strive to have their light turned on.

Students are reminded they need contribute to the drive only once. Donations given to one organization may count in all organizations a person may belong to.

CONTRIBUTIONS are in the form of toys, clothing, and nonperishable foods. No money is being accepted.

Chairmen for the drive are John Gunner, Pittsburgh, Pa., AMS, and Barbara Kehmier, Gresham, Ore., AWS. They are being assisted by Wes Turner, Portland, Ore., and Gary Smith.

Noted Concert Pianist To Play At Regular Thursday Assembly

Ruth Slenczynska, noted concert pianist, will appear at Brigham Young University Thursday at 11 a. m. in the Smith Fieldhouse during the regular student assembly period.

Miss Slenczynska's appearance is being sponsored by the BYU Community Concert series. She recently appeared as guest soloist with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Dimitri Metropoulos. Her last appearance at BYU was as guest soloist with the Boston Pops Orihestra under the direction of Arthur Fiedler.

She will perform three numbers on the program. They are "Chorale: Beloved Jesu, We Are Here" by Johann Sebastian Bach, "Allegro molto" by Bela Bartok, and "Twelve Etudes, Opus 25" by Frederic Chopin.

Known throughout Europe and the United States as the "most phenomenal keyboard prodigy since Mozart," Miss Slenczynska began her professional career at the age of four. Since that time she has played with nearly every major orchestra in this continent and in Europe.

The famed pianist has studied under such masters as Rachmaninoff and Cortot and has played for royalty and influential people throughout the world. She will arrive in Salt Lake City Wednesday evening and will visit with her sister who lives there.

The performers left Provo Wednesday morning. They plan to return Friday evening.

Ticket Reservation Method For Faculty Delayed For Ballot

Faculty tickets are not being reserved for pre-conference games, as was announced in Wednesday's Daily Universe.

Dr. Wayne B. Hales, athletic council chairman, said Wednesday faculty tickets will be distributed on a first come, first served basis for all pre-season games.

Policy, as announced in Wednesday's Daily Universe, of reserving tickets by faculty members, will be submitted for faculty vote, Dr. Hales said.

At the present time, the ticket office is not set up to handle the proposed faculty reservation program, Dr. Hales poined out. Plenty of seating will be available on a first come, first served basis for all pre-season games, he added.

Ballots will be circulated to all faculty members in the near future. The most satisfactory method of ticket distribution under the new ticket program recently adopted, will be determined by the results of the faculty ballot.

Group Refreshment Plan Told For Prom

Serving refreshments to hundreds of dancers at the Junior Prom is one of the largest problems anticipated by prom committee chairman Roger Victor.

To avoid traffic snarls and ruffled tempers the committee desires that units and organizations wishing to have their refreshments together buy their Prom tickets early.

Units unable to purchase tickets Monday should contact Lynne Hemmenway at FR 3-7868.

Refreshments will be served in five different shifts during the two prom nights from 9:15 on Friday and from 10:00 on Saturday.

Advisors Aid Students With Winter Classes

Students who have not already done so should meet soon with treir advisers to plan winter quarter schedules, according to Bliss Crandall, dean of admissions and records.

Students should take with them a winter quarter class schedule and have as much work done on their schedule as possible. Students are reminded to plan to take half of their classes in the afternoon periods.

Those not registered with a college have been assigned to a General Registration Service adviser (formerly the counseling service.) These arbitrary assignments have been made by the last two digits of the student's activity card.

Lists of faculty members assisting with this registration service and the students assigned to that counselor are posted on bulletin boards in all major buildings on campus. Letters are also being sent to students affected by this new system.

Fifty faculty members are participating in order to serve over 2,000 students not registered with a college. This preregistration must be filed with the registrar's office before Dec. 14 in order to avoid paying a late registration fee in January.

Court Ordered To Hear Case On Athenians

The board of inquiry has summoned the Inter-Organization Council Court to hold a preliminary hearing on charges brought against the Athenian social unit.

The Athenians were reported to have practiced improper initiation procedures during rush week. The social unit allegedly used "grease and feathers" and other taboo "goating" methods on their fall quarter pledges.

A second charge against the Athenians of displaying an "A" on "Y" mountain will also receive court action.

According to Mish Hollingworth, IOC president, Blain Williams and Roger O'Brien, board of inquiry members, will submit summons for a court preliminary hearing to Jack Nelson, chief justice IOC Court, Monroe McKay, complainant, and Nancy Briggs, IOC Court prosecuting attorney.

Chief Justice Nelson will arrange the time and the place of the preliminary hearing after receiving the summons. According to the IOC Handbook, the preliminary hearing should be held prior to eighteen days after summons.

Lou Hunter, Athenian president, wished to remain unquoted until he has had time to confer with the social unit's officers upon their stand in the case.

Diamond Jubilee

A reliable source Wednesday revealed that the elite Bachelors' Club is in an extreme state of mental anxiety.

Our informer, himself a member of the select group of strong-willed male "eligibles," was afraid to be identified because of club pressure. "Take it from me, subversive elements are at work on our club and the boys at the top are worried," said the anonymous source.

Asked to comment on this year's deluge of marriages, prospective and otherwise, the president of Bachelors' Club said unruffled, "Don't listen to those rumors. Our club will stand forever! It is not true that we are losing members! Not true, do you hear me, not true!"

But latest tabulations indicate that the president and other officers of the club have their worries as . . .

Tausig member Ronald Paul, Ogden, recently gave a diamond to Arleen Johnson, Modesto, Calif. She is president of Wells Hall. They will be married in the Los Angeles Temple in June.

Lynn Paulson is engaged to Nola Carlisle. He is a member of the ROTC chorus. She graduated from BYU in 1956 and was a Kappa Deb member. Her home is Alpine and he is from Pleasant Grove.

Cami Los member JoAnn Llewellyn is wearing a ring, compliments of Louis Kochevar. He is a Knight Templar. Her home is Salt Lake City and he is from Glendale, Calif.

No Dyeing, Spraying Necessary For New Color Streaks In Hair

NEW YORK (INS)—You can now have glamorous colored streaks in your hair without bleaching, dyeing or spraying.

These are hair streaks you pin in—and at something like 75 cents a streak you can have blonde streaks one day and blue streaks the next.

These attachable streaks, already curled, are going to be in stores in time for a holiday hairdo without fuss. You can get five-inch streaks for short hair, or 12-inch streaks for long hair —in silver, blonde, gold, bronze —and shocking pink, blue and green!

The manufacturer of these hair fancies calls them "lovelocks." They're made of real hair attached to a tiny bit of invisible net—and come complete with midget bobby pins.

Short "lovelocks" are sold in pairs for $1.50 in regular hair tones and $2 a pair for the crazier colors. The long "lovelocks" cost $1.50 each; $2 each in blue, pink or green.

They not only provide the fun of having streaks without expense and fuss of bleaching; they're real hair and can be combed into a coiffure along with your own.

The '56 All-Conference Team

JIM CRAWFORD—Cowboy backfield ace.

by the Daily Universe Sports Staff

Jim Crawford, the gray bull from the Wyoming prairielands, and Jack Hill of Utah State head a star-studded aggregation selected by the Daily Universe Sports Staff as All-Conference for 1956.

Power runner Crawford has been Wyoming's bread and butter man all season and has been boomed for All-American honors. The long striding Poke was not only the nation's leading rusher but one of the most vicious blockers and defensive men in the country.

Hill is another unanimous choice for the mythical backfield. He has battled Crawford down to the wire for conference and national rushing and scoring honors and has also been nominated for All-American honors.

Rounding out the talent laden backfield are Larry Zowada and scatback Johnny Wilson of Denver. Zowada master-minded the Waddies through an undefeated campaign, passing effectively and paving the way for Crawford with bruising blocks. The shifty Wilson terrorized opposition all season with his break-away running and ranked high in rushing statistics.

Anchoring the line are two of the strongest guards ever produced in Skyline play. They are rugged Jay Weenig of Brigham Young and Jerry Nesbitt of New Mexico.

Weenig has been BYU's top lineman for three successive seasons and has been named outstanding lineman in the majority of games played by BYU this season. He is a unanimous choice.

Vince Guinta, gritty linebacker and center gets the Daily Universe' nod for the important middle man slot.

Massive John Higgins of Wyoming and hustling Larry Amazich of Utah are our nominations for the tackle positions.

End is another strong position on the 1956 All-Conference Eleven.

Jerry Liston, Utah co-captain and ace pass receiver will hold down the right flank supported by brilliant Ernie Pitts end for Denver. Pitts has received national acclaim for his pass receiving prowess.

Because of the naming of the Daily Universe all-conference team the pre-game stories on this week's basketball contests do not appear in this edition.

The pre-game write-ups of both games will appear in Friday's Daily Universe.

The Cats will meet Oregon State and the University of Washington in the opening basketball games of the season Friday and Saturday nights in the Smith Fieldhouse.

'Newcomer' Coaches Dominat Daily Universe Mentor Choice

Newcomers dominate the Daily Universe "Skyline Coaches of the Year" selection for 1956.

Coach Phil Dickens of the University of Wyoming is the only "oldtimer" chosen this year, the newcomers being Coach Hal Kopp of Brigham Young University and Co Dick Clausen of the Univer of New Mexico.

Coach Dickens was faced w a strange situation this seas Boasting probably one of top backfield combinations the conference for his f string he hal a decided lack depth at any backfield posit It was partly because of shortage of secondary talent the start of the season that m picked Wyoming to finish better than third in the con ence.

Luck rode with the Cowbo however, and no crippling injuries hampered the Wyom eleven on their undefeated r to conference honors.

Coach Hal Kopp took o the football mentor's job BYU with the pigskin sport an all-time low ebb on the C gar campus. Kopp instilled fighting spirit into the Cat e en, and brought them week week to the point where t just about knocked off the c ference champion Cowboys.

New Mexico Coach Dick Cl sen walked into a football sit tion much the same as the Coach Kopp found at BYU. his first year as the Lobos' h man he managed to upset lea contender Utah State in one the top Skyline games this son, and then go on to scare life out of Wyoming and D ver, before dropping close games.
